Moon Hit In 2nd Place

By Tom Henshaw
Associated Press

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's September tour of the United States has been chosen the biggest story of 1959 by news editors in the annual poll of The Associated Press members.

Second was the spectacular Russian moon probes — they hit it with a rocket Sept. 14, the day before Khrushchev's arrival in the U.S., and later succeeded in taking the first picture of the lunar backside.

Both events had sobering aspects for the Western world.

The Khrushchev tour gave the American people their

THE 10 BIGGEST

1. Khrushchev's visit to U.S.
2. Russian moon probes
3. Castro gains power in Cuba; troubles mount.
4. Strike closes steel mills.
5. TV quiz show scandals.
6. Eisenhower's increased role in nation's foreign affairs.
7. Death of Dulles; Herter appointed Secy. of State.
8. Nixon's tour of Russia.
9. Formal statehood for Alaska, Hawaii.
10. Congress passes new labor relations law.

first closeup look at their arch-enemy in the Cold War as he moved from coast-to-coast, now affable, now ominous, never indifferent.

He showed himself to be a man who could be charming, crude, witty, dour, threatening — and most important, dangerously quick-tempered for the leader of one of the world's greatest powers.

The Russian moon probes indicated that the Russians are considerably ahead of the United States in rocketry.

The Sept. 14 rocket was the first man-made object to land on the moon and the probe of Oct. 6, equipped with a camera, was the first to orbit the moon, transmitting its picture by radio.

Castro's Troubles

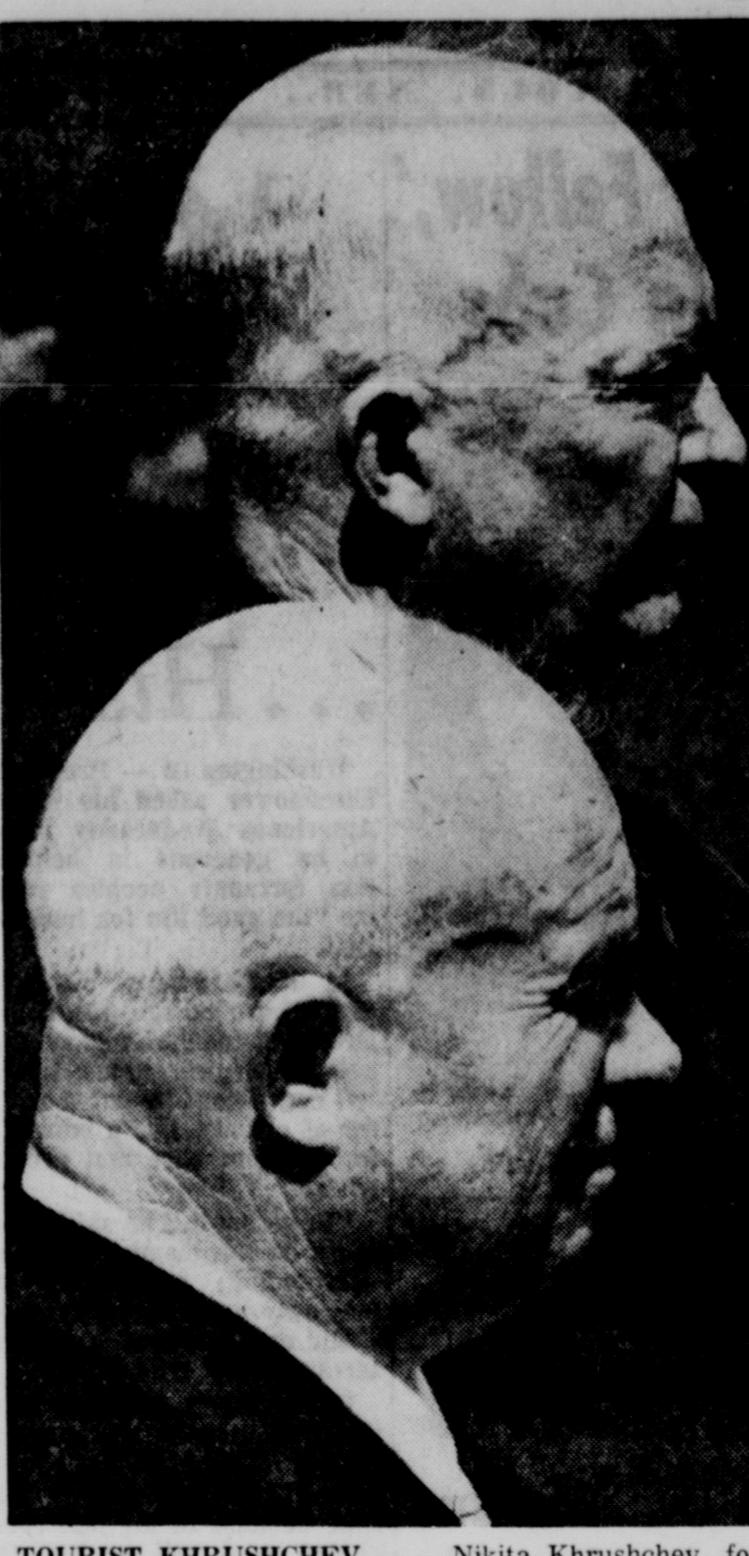

Dr. Fidel Castro's ouster of the Batista regime in Cuba on Jan. 1 and his troubles during the year was the editors' choice as the third top story of the year.

The editors' top choices in domestic stories, Nos. 4 and 5 in the poll, had a negative quality.

The first was the steel strike, the longest (116 days) in 1951, 1952 and 1956 assessment bills by the schools until "two small payments" within the past few months.

Pyle refused to comment on Brooks' statement that substantial amounts had been paid the city.

Next came the TV quiz show scandals, which actually began a year early but reached a climax in 1959 when Charles Van Doren, once the nation's intellectual hero, admitted having been given the answers.

President Eisenhower's growing direction of the country's foreign affairs, illustrated by his personal diplomacy jaunts through Europe, Asia and Africa, was No. 6.

But had it not been for the death of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Ike probably would not have stepped into the breach. Dulles' death and the appointment of Christian Herter as his successor was No. 7.

Other choices in the editors' top ten:

8. Vice President Nixon's tour of Russia, during which he opened the American fair in the Soviet capital and engaged in a public verbal joust with Khrushchev.

9. Statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, which formally became the 49th and 50th states of the union when Eisenhower signed their statehood wall and sat down beside the other children and the old men to watch the latest strangers coming into town.

The afternoon sun was hot on your back. The wall was warm. For a minute, your eyes closed.

When they opened, two people were coming along the dusty road down in the valley, a man walking and a woman riding a donkey. But how slowly these two were coming. The woman had her hand on the man's shoulder and she seemed very weary. The man kept looking at her anxiously.

Now the man and woman had reached the hill and you could see that the donkey was covered with dust, as if he had come a long way.

A Wonderful Smile

Why were they stopping so often, now that their trip was almost over? They stopped again, right in front of you. The woman turned to look at the man and as she did you saw her face. You saw it and your heart gave a little leap.

For on this young woman's face, so pale and travel-weary, was a smile that made you forget taxes and Roman soldiers and even Caesar Augustus himself. In hot, noisy, crowded Bethlehem, her smile seemed to say that all the joy of heaven had come down to earth.

That night, wrapped up in your cloak on the crowded floor of our house, you could not get to sleep for thinking of her smile. It was an unusual thing, these days, to see a happy face. You wondered if the man and woman had found a place to sleep.

Why was she so happy? And you, why were you yourself so wide-awake and excited tonight?

A Special Night

This was a special night. You didn't know how you knew it, but you knew that something wonderful was about to happen.

It was very late when you suddenly jumped up from the floor. In an instant the other children were on their feet.

There was a commotion out in the street. You ran to the door, stepping over sleeping grownups wrapped in their cloaks.

You stared at these men who were talking so loudly, in the middle of the night. They looked like country men, shepherders. What was it they were saying? They had seen an angel!

And the angel had told them about a Baby born in Bethlehem and called the Baby "Saviour" and "Lord." They had just seen the Baby with their own eyes—out in the stable behind the inn—and they wanted everyone else to know about it, too.

You didn't wait to hear any more. All of you children set off down the street as fast as you could run, past houses where sleepy people were stumbling to the doors, asking what all the racket was about. To the inn, then around it to the stable, then, slowly, softly, in at the door.

There she was. The young woman with the radiant smile. She was leaning against one of the stalls, and the eyes in the happy face were closed. The man was at her side. And behind them, in the manger where the cows came for their food, was the Baby.

He was a tiny thing, wrapped tightly in a long linen band and sleeping as soundly as any new born baby. Sleeping as though the world had not waited thousands of years for this moment. As soundly as though your life and my life and the life of everyone on earth were not wrapped up in His birth. As though from this moment on all the sin and sorrow of the world were not His problem.

What a moment that would have been! To have reached out your hand and touched the Son of God!

And yet—do you know—I don't really envy those people who lived in Bethlehem that night, even though many of them must have seen Jesus and Mary and Joseph with

New Income Tax Short Form Christmas Gift To Taxpayers

The Internal Revenue Service has a Christmas gift for the nation's taxpayers ... a brand new short return form tabbed 1040W.

According to James L. McCrory, Omaha district IRS director, the new two-page form can be used by any individual whose income consisted of salary and wages, regardless of the amount, not more than $200 income from interest and dividends.

Husband and wife whose combined income meets these tests may also file a joint return on the new form.

The 1040W is a compromise between the simple card form 1040A for incomes under $10,000 with less than $200 of it interest or dividends, and the 4-page regular form 1040.

The new 1040W is designed to allow taxpayers in the defined income category to list deductions for:

— "Head of household" or "surviving spouse" benefits.

— "Sick pay" exclusion.

— "Dividends received" credit.

— Itemized deductions for contributions, interest payments, medical expenses, etc.

On the new 1040W, a taxpayer has the option of taking the standard deduction ($1,000 or 10% of your adjusted gross income, whichever is less) or of itemizing deductions.

Taxpayers with dividend and interest income of more than $200 or any other income such as capital gains, retirement income, rents, royalties, business or professional income, must still file on Form 1040, McCrory said.

Chamber Concurs With Council OK Of Interstate Links

The Lincoln Chamber of Commerce "heartily concurs" with the City Council's unanimous approval of the state-suggested route of the Interstate Highway access connections to downtown Lincoln.

President William Gold expressed the Chamber's concurrence in a letter to the council in the wake of approving action earlier this week.

"We appreciate the spirit with which you (council members) have acted and your vigilance in acting prior to the Jan. 1 deadline," Gold's letter concluded.

The State Highway Dept.

has $800,000 for planning and right-of-way acquisition for the Lincoln access connections.

Gov. Ralph Brooks had directed the funds be diverted from the Lincoln area unless the location of Interstate Route 4 (Lincoln access connection) was determined and approved by Jan. 1.

their own eyes. For they couldn't have known all that they were seeing.

They couldn't know all that this Baby was born to do: the words of joy He would speak to an unhappy world, the love He would show to people too used to hatred, the victory He would win over the sin and sorrow of the world.

You and I are greatly blessed to live now, when His work of love is finished. He is as close to us, today, as He was to the children of Bethlehem. Closer, for today we do not even have to reach out our hands to touch Him.

If we are really sorry for our sins, we can come to Him just as truly as those shepherds did in Bethlehem. And He will forgive us and give back to us that joyous fellowship with God—lost so long ago in the Garden of Eden.

This is the Christmas gift that God gives to you and to me and to everyone on earth.

MINOR CHANGE SEEN IN FARM VALUATIONS

A minor change will be made in the new tax assessment rules regarding the valuation of irrigated farms, Jensen of Aurora, protested the rule at a public hearing. They said the farmer is already sufficiently taxed on the production of his land and the irrigation facilities.

The change is in Rule 14, which states generally that irrigation must be taken into consideration when assessing the value of farm land.

Johnson said the rule as previously written said the valuation should be changed "as increased" by irrigation. It is to be changed to read "as affected" by irrigation.

Many irrigation farmers and their organizations, including State Sen. Hans O. Johnson said.

The rules were authorized by the 1959 Legislature, and are to have full force of law Jan. 1 after approval by the attorney general, the governor, and filing with the secretary of state.

Johnson said he hopes to place them in the hands of the attorney general by Thursday.

Triumphant Return

By WILLIAM

With cheers and giant sparklers to greet him, President Eisenhower has returned home after a record breaking 11-nation tour of Asia and Europe. Not a person in this land of ours harbors anything in his heart but the best of wishes for the President and the greatest confidence and hope in the strenuous journey he undertook in pursuit of real peace on earth.

Now could any but the most rank partisan say that the 19-day, 23,000-mile good-will tour has not been of great value to the United States. In the eyes of millions the world over, the President's trip has re-created an image of the U.S. as a powerful nation determined to win peace with the preservation of the dignity and freedom of mankind. There is no question that this image will be an asset worth having for this country in the years ahead of dealing with the Russian communists. When it comes time to sit down at the conference table and iron out the specific details of disarmament, unification of Germany, etc., the Communists will be face to face with a mighty flood of world opinion favorable to the U.S.

But sit down at the table we must if the progress that has been made through this trip is to be capitalized upon. Good-will, regardless of how strong and widespread it might be, is but a beginning in the struggle to establish a lasting peace. It is the place from which we start to build the superstructure of mutual respect, freedom and understanding.

The President's efforts toward peace, climaxed by his pre-Christmas trip to foreign lands, would be a terrible mockery if it resulted in a false security. It would be a serious defeat if it led us to believe that our objectives had been reached and there was nothing more to do.

As the President heard in almost every land he visited, there is a tremendous need for economic development in many parts of the world. Despite the warm feelings for the United States in these areas, communism is an ominous threat that has a habit of riding in on the crest of widespread poverty and human suffering. It is like the straw offered the drowning man after democracy has failed.

These areas of the world are eager to live in a democracy or at least a reasonable facsimile thereof but the system must do something for them or they will abandon it. They look to the United States for the technical and financial aid that is needed to get their own economies firmly established. It means sacrifice on the part of the U.S. but that is far better than ultimate defeat.

Thus, the question of foreign aid will be faced by Congress in the session beginning in January in the midst of just as much controversy and conflict as it was before the President took his trip. And when we attempt to settle with Russia and our own allies the question of Berlin and all Germany the overseas welcome of President Eisenhower will offer no solutions.

Nor will this welcome solve the questions of disarmament and controls over nuclear bomb explosions. It will not stop the production of weapons of war, including missiles which could destroy the world in less than 24 hours. These are things that will have to be settled in hard and factual discussion.

And most important of all, the opinion of the masses of people throughout the free world will not destroy the ultimate objectives of communism in general. To date, the terms of peace as set forth by Nikita Khrushchev have been almost totally unacceptable to the United States. Eisenhower's trip has brought about no change in the conditions of those terms. We still face the challenge of a way and philosophy of life that we cannot accept. We must find a way of living with this challenge until it disappears in some way other than global conflict.

This is no easy job and the American people would only be fooling themselves to think that all the problems have now been solved. Progress is represented in the President's trip as well as great hope but the final touches must still be applied by men sitting down and agreeing among themselves to the rules of the game.

No Cause For Worry

Admiral Hyman Rickover is renowned for fathering the atomic submarine and perhaps ultimately saving his country. He is also renowned for public expression on subjects of general interest—such as education, economics and sociology.

There have been times when his utterances, as they appeared in print, aroused critical debate—an eventuality that the good admiral blamed on the press rather than on the natural clash of ideas. He has, therefore, announced that hereafter he will employ the privilege of copyright which gives him a special property right over such thoughts as he turns out for public effect.

His decision has aroused some elements of the press which are warning that the use of copyright could become epidemic in respect to public figures and holders of high elective office with the result that the free press would be transformed into a fiction.

This is one fear the public can put off to

Just A Penny's Worth

Mr. J. H. James, of England, is a man who lived in relative obscurity, so far as the world goes, until recently when he performed a great benefaction for his fellow Britons.

James is the controller of Her Majesty's mint and as such he conducted an investigation of the British penny which is really the equivalent of two American pennies. To the conservative British mind his findings were astonishing, namely that there were 1.5 billion pennies in circulation with an aggregate weight of 14 tons. That is too much tonnage even for strong British pockets, and was leading to innumerable holes through which law abiding British citizens were losing far too many other objects of pocket size.

It is possible that Mr. James has finally found out what is weakening the British empire, which is something that continues to escape its political parties. At any rate he has ordered all the 1.5 billion pennies out of circulation. And now we shall soon see what happens to a world full of light stepping British, going about confidently secured against losing everything else through pocket holes made by pennies.

The United States will watch this change with a mixture of wistfulness and interest—wistful because no such controllable scheme will cure what is ailing us. The U.S. long since got rid of its pennies, not by restricting coinage but by pricing them out of the market. What it is more interested in is restoring an uninflated economy wherein the pennies will return to such stature that they can dignify a pocket while wearing a hole in it. If Mr. J. H. James, of England, has any thoughts on that subject we should be pleased to hear from him.

First Real Christmas

Nebraska's Omaha Indian Tribe has had its first real Christmas, complete with candy, hundreds of toys, food baskets, and song and prayer. The literally hundreds of people who had a part in making the event a happy one for the Omahas deserve the thanks of all Nebraskans. Winter has always been, and still is, a hard time for most of the state's original inhabitants, and it is good that something could be done to brighten that time.

Even more important, however, is the story behind the party held last weekend. The Omahas, most of their land gone now and much of their proud culture torn apart, are on their way up again. Accustomed for many decades to having things done for them, and to them, the Omahas are taking their future in their own hands and making plans and starting work to meet their basic economic and social problems. It is altogether fitting that in this they should have the assistance of a group of non-Indian friends, for the Indians have all too often been without friends, but it is more important that they are learning to do things for themselves.

It was just a little more than a year ago that the Omahas formed a community council to consider how they could improve their future, and asked a group of friends to form an advisory council for technical assistance. Since then the signs of progress have been many. In the spring members of the Tribe were elected to the school board. At pow-wow time in August a $500,000 economic development plan was announced, and shortly after it was accepted in principle by the Federal Bureau of Indian Affairs. In September and November the Tribe held the first ballot elections in its history. All summer and fall a growing group of women has been learning to sew, and planning next summer to can fruit and vegetables so that next winter there will be less hunger. And much of the Christmas party just past is a credit to the Omahas themselves, for the women's group handled the complex job of distributing equitably the hundreds of toys, the food baskets and the candy, and did all the organizational work for the event attended by more than 1,000 persons.

While the children's faces are bright on the reservation because of the toys and candy, their parents must feel a warm glow. For the most important thing to parents—the future of their children—is looking up on the Omaha reservation. All will be glad the Omahas are having a Merry Christmas, and wish them a New Year of fulfillment of their hopes.

Whether Congress will be in a hurry to pass such laws as the administration may suggest is a matter of doubt. Management is beginning to understand that any new law would apply to it as well as to labor.

Philippines Fear Chinese Expansion

MANILA, P.I.—Important and successful as President Eisenhower's trip has been, it neglected some of our stanch friends. In India it became clear that the biggest question mark regarding world peace is Red China.

Accordingly I continued to the Far East to talk to the allied leader on who the United States will have to rely in case the 650,000,000 Red Chinese start bursting from their borders.

Among the most important, I called on Carlos Garcia, president of the Philippines, stanchest ally the U.S.A. has in the Pacific. I found President Garcia dressed in a crimson bathrobe at the veterans hospital in Manila, where he has been recuperating from a back injury. He is a kindly, soft-spoken man whose appearance gives no hint of the stubbornness he has shown on issues where he knows he is right.

"I am glad that the real Communist China is showing its true colors toward India," he said, "because India has been the leader of the neutralist bloc. The Indian people have been passive and peaceful, but I don't think they will remain that way in the face of Chinese invasion."

I told President Garcia that most of the leaders I had interviewed in the Far East thought Red China would start pushing out her borders in order to make room for her vast population, and that most experts in world affairs thought she would start moving south rather than north.

"I think so, too," he said. "In the north Red China would have to collide with Russia, so she will move south to the rice fields of Burma and Indonesia."

"The only way to prevent invasion," the Filipino president continued frankly, "is to strike at the mainland of China. Chiang Kai-shek is only waiting for an opportunity to do this, but he cannot land until there is some help from within China."

"But when he was asked whether he would like to live in China," Garcia continued, "the vice mayor replied: 'I would prefer a thousand times to live in the Philippines with all our shortcomings.'

"We are a free people," President Garcia added. "We have even more freedom than we can use."

No Real Break Seen In Steel Dealings

WASHINGTON — The steel workers have won the right to bargain individually with steel companies rather than with the industry-wide committee, and negotiations are now under way in earnest.

The steel workers have won the right to bargain individually with steel companies rather than with the industry-wide committee, and negotiations are now under way in earnest. Yet the chances of avoiding another walkout at the conclusion of the Taft-Hartley cooling-off period are very slim, indeed.

Possibly a few of the smaller steel operators will join Kaiser in negotiating a separate peace, but the big steel companies, headed by U.S. Steel and Bethlehem, appear to be as adamant as ever. The sticking point in the negotiations is not so much money, as important as that is, but the work rules on which neither side has shown much willingness to stand fast.

President Eisenhower has said that another session of the strike is unthinkable. But, if Taft-Hartley procedures fail, as appears likely, there is no other law on the books which can be invoked to put the industry back to work with the possible exception of the Selective Service act. To use that act would create such a political shambles that the mere suggestion that it be employed brings shudders to the politicians.

Possibly a few of the smaller steel operators will join Kaiser in negotiating a separate peace, but the big steel companies, headed by U.S. Steel and Bethlehem, appear to be as adamant as ever. The sticking point in the negotiations is not so much money, as important as that is, but the work rules on which neither side has shown much willingness to stand fast.

In addition to the negotiations with individual companies, the President's fact-finding committee will have another go in an attempt to find a solution. If no agreement is reached by the middle of the month, scarcely two weeks will be available for passage of emergency legislation to deal with a renewed strike, if it comes.

The Departments of Labor and Justice have been given the job of coming up with proposed legislation. It is no easy task. What the final form will be, no one knows. That decision will have to be faced soon by a President doubtless wearied by his strenuous offer.

While the children's faces are bright on the reservation because of the toys and candy, their parents must feel a warm glow. For the most important thing to parents—the future of their children—is looking up on the Omaha reservation. All will be glad the Omahas are having a Merry Christmas, and wish them a New Year of fulfillment of their hopes.

Whether Congress will be in a hurry to pass such laws as the administration may suggest is a matter of doubt. Management is beginning to understand that any new law would apply to it as well as to labor.

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

To Your Good Health

"Dear Dr. Molner: About a half hour after my husband comes home from his office, he starts to itch, especially his back. We have tried all kinds of creams, etc., but nothing has helped. What causes it? — Mrs. E.K.

I've chosen this letter, not because itching backs are common, but Dr. Molner because a localized itch coming at some particular time of day, is quite ordinary. It may be the nose, the feet, the fingers, hands, or just about any part of the anatomy.

When an itch fits into a pattern, look for what we call "contact dermatitis," which is a classic form of allergy.

It may come on suddenly, or it may come only after repeated contact with some substance, until there has been enough contact to make the body (or parts of it) rebel.

Does he (and this isn't such a bad idea, in general) lie down for 20 minutes on a comfortable old couch?

Does this itch start only when he's at home, and NOT on vacation or at a friend's house?

Does he ride home in someone's car (or his own), or ride the bus?

Does it happen on Sunday when he gets home from church?

There are, also, signs that nerves or tension have some connection, too. This gets into a controversial area of which we do not yet know enough to be very certain.

Still, it seems to be a factor.

When this itching back acts up, what are some of the possibilities? Does E.K.'s husband invariably settle down for a little while in a favorite chair? It could be the upholstery!

Is he sensitive to house dust? Could be. By this, I do not mean that the house is dirtier than anyone else's.

All houses have dust, but it varies, depending on the cleaning compounds used, the upholstery, the fuel for heating and so on.

Or does E.K.'s husband, without even thinking about it, automatically slide into a favorite old lounging jacket? Does he pet the dog? Or take a drink, or eat some favorite snack, fusing with some plants (flowers, trees, shrubs) as soon as he gets home?

His Natal Day

... it is Christmas, the birthday of Jesus the Christ. It is Hallelujah time... a day when joyful reverence reigns in the hearts of His people. It is the hour for Carol singing and merry making in simple, serious celebration of the birthday of the Lord. Then, may your Yule-log burn brightly as you and yours jubilantly, in age-old custom, exchange gifts made possible through thought and treasure. Let us make merry but may we not forget to keep Christ in Christmas...

For unto us a child is born, and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.

Dear Abby-

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There is a very beautiful girl (about 22) who lives next door to us. Her bedroom window is directly across from ours. She has no curtains or shades on her windows — just flimsy bamboo slats that you can see right through.

We have shades and curtains on our windows. I noticed the curtain was all curled up at the bottom from being held back. Then I caught my husband taking in the sights. I made him promise he would quit. But I can tell by the way the curtain is all curled up that he has been looking again.

I know this girl's mother well, but wonder how to tell her to get her daughter a better shade. If I had sons, I could tell her my sons were looking, but I have four daughters. I can't tell her that my husband is looking, can I?

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: You don't have to tell your neighbor WHO is looking. Simply tell her that her daughter is giving everyone in your house an eyeful. And strongly recommend that she replace the bamboo shades with something more appropriate.

DEAR ABBY: In 16 years of married life my husband has never brought me a birthday, anniversary or Christmas present. He just hands over his paycheck and tells me to pay all the bills and if there is anything left over to buy myself whatever I want.

I would cherish even a ten-cent card if he picked it out himself. I am senti-

Evening Ceremony

MRS. JERROLD LEE SIEVERS

Christmas greens and clusters of lighted white candles formed the background Wednesday evening, Dec. 23, for the wedding of Miss Marilyn Kay Hoppe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hoppe, to Jerry Lee Sievers, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Sievers of Roca. The 7:30 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Marvin Herrick at Southminster Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Wearing alike frocks of holly red velvet with full, dance-length skirts and carrying white fur muffs trimmed with red roses were Mrs. Oakley Obermeyer, as the matron of honor, Miss Sonia Sievers, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids. Miss Carol Weber of Beaver Crossing, Miss Pat Bebout and Miss Bonnie Sievers. Miss Debbie Short, Little Rock, Ark., was flower girl, and the ringbearers were Craig Short, Little Rock, and Lee Obermeyer. Miss Patricia Tate and David Tate lighted the candles.

Serving as best man was Jim Sievers of Roca, and the ushers were Dick Sievers, Oakley Obermeyer, Bill Sievers and Don Lahn.

The bride appeared in a gown of white Chantilly lace and tulle. Opalescent sequins

Opening lead — eight of spades.

Declarer often has the choice of winning a trick in either his own hand or dummy's. There is no magic rule to govern this situation—the decision depends on the particular circumstances that exist.

For a case in point we have this hand where South became declarer in four hearts. West led a spade and declarer had the option of winning in either hand. His possible losers were a spade, a club, and two hearts.

But the two potential trump losers could be cut to one by leading the hearts from dummy towards his K-Q-10, because the bidding had pretty surely marked East with the ace of hearts.

So declarer won in dummy with the king in order to get the trumps going. When he led a heart, East took the ace and returned the queen of spades. South played the ace and West trumped it. Declarer still had to lose a spade and a club and went down one.

South was right in reasoning that the initial heart lead should come from dummy. But he was wrong in arranging to make the trump play as early as he did. There was too much danger, on the bidding, that East had a six-card spade suit and West, hence, had a singleton.

He should have won the spade lead in his own hand. He could then enter dummy with a diamond and lead a heart. True, East would take the ace and return a spade, as before. But the situation would now be different.

West could ruff the queen of spades or not, as he saw fit. If he trumped, dummy would of course contribute a low spade and the king would remain intact. On this defense, South would lose a heart, a club, and the spade which West ruffed.

And if West chose instead not to ruff the queen of spades, dummy's king would win and South would wind up losing a spade, a heart, and a club.

As happens so often, declarer's first play made all the difference.

A Bus Load Of Merry Xmas

When Mr. and Mrs. Merlin James and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Durrie decided to entertain a group of their friends at a pre-Christmas party, there were a few ideas they had to eliminate from the list of possibilities — One of these, upon which the others hinged, was a white Christmas — There wouldn't be one — at least there were no signs of white two days before Christmas. No snow meant no sleigh ride — no jingle bells and the usual trappings.

So — Mr. and Mrs. James and Mr. and Mrs. Durrie did the next best thing — They chartered two buses to take their guests on a caroling party and to see some of Lincoln's beautiful home decorations.

The 40 guests gathered at the Liebers Party House about 8 o'clock — were on their way a short time later, and returned to the Party House for a late supper.

The guests are pictured Wednesday evening as they headed for the buses and a tour of the town.

Courtesies

The social calendar has been filled with prenatal courtesies the last several weeks honoring Miss Mary Joyce Deer, whose marriage to Donald H. Schoening of Glenwood, Ia., will be an event of Sunday, Dec. 27.

Included among recent parties was the miscellaneous shower held Friday evening, Dec. 18, at the home of Mrs. Duard Henderson. Hostesses were Mrs. Herman Hahn and Mrs. Robert Hilt.

Also recent hostesses who entertained for the bride-elect were Mrs. C. R. Deer and her daughter, Miss Nancy Deer.

Miss Deer and her fiance will be honored on Saturday evening at a prenatal dinner for which the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Deer, will be host and hostess. Rehearsal at Frieden's Lutheran Church will follow the dinner.

and another brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Wright of Omaha.

We already have told you that Mr. Wright's mother, Mrs. Fred Wright of Scottsbluff, is a holiday guest at the home of her son and daughter-in-law.

—As for the very young set and Santa Claus—Well, this will be a big morning for Chad Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Olson, who is celebrating his third birthday today. Mrs. Olson has invited 15 small guests (and their mothers) for a party this morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Anderson. There will be, we suspect, the usual party fare, but we know for sure that the feature attraction will be Santa Claus who has every intention of attending the party.

—But back to Christmas guests—just to tell you that Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gessner and their two children, Charlie and Gene, will come from Omaha to spend Christmas Day with Mrs. Gessner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Irl Stebbins.

Food For Thought

Dr. Tashman feels the only solution is for men and women to act their age — to become adults.

"The frailty that renders us so vulnerable to the misfortunes that develop in marriage," he writes, "is the tendency to retain our early passive, receptive and dependent nature. Such childlike attitudes . . . lack of the crucial ingredients for creative life — independence, confidence and self-reliance."

The important thing is that both man and wife must be ready to put something constructive into their partnership. This means not just sexual attraction and money but sympathy, warmth and understanding, Dr. Tashman says.

"People must realize that as they grow up, they no longer are entitled to the love — in effect, the parent-tal over-evaluation — they got as children.

"As adults we must earn love. And we can only do this by working to make ourselves lovable. I'm sometimes astonished at our own self-esteem. For basically we are neurotic, self-conscious, overbearing, sometimes downright repulsive.

"We have to overcome these tendencies to deserve love from others. We make many adjustments in order to fit in with society. Often, however, we don't make the effort to accommodate those closest to us."

But all the good intentions in the world, he finds, aren't enough to let individuals overcome the influence of past family life.

"Marriage shouldn't be made into an arena where we battle out our gripes," Dr. Tashman says. "Yet time and time again we find married couples reliving the experiences of their own mothers and fathers. And they again act out the role of children in their married life."

To prevent this, he urgently proposes more concentrated education for marriage in schools. He says children should be trained more precisely in what they will face as adults. This means discipline as well as knowledge.

Dr. Tashman adds: "Instead of teaching how to get, schools should teach how to give."

Buchanan 8th Newsman Chased Home This Year

... One 'Probed Too Deeply'

By Associated Press

Reporter James Buchanan of the Miami Herald, deported from Cuba, was the eighth U.S. correspondent ousted from a foreign country in 1959 because of official displeasure over their news reporting.

Two correspondents, Stanley Johnson of the Associated Press and A. M. Rosenthal of the New York Times, were expelled from Poland.

James Bell of Time Magazine was banned from the Philippines.

Tad Szulc of the New York Times was escorted to a departing plane in the Cominican Republic with an admonition not to return.

Winston Burdette of the Columbia Broadcasting System, William McHale of Time and Life magazines and Larry Collins of United Press International were expelled from Iraq last March after authorities told them simply "You have been here long enough."

A ninth correspondent, Jules Dubois of the Chicago Tribune, was threatened by a mob in Cuba. The newspaper withdrew him from Cuba for a rest and sent another reporter as a replacement.

Visit Goes Amiss

In the most recent case, Buchanan was arrested Dec. 10 after calling at the Havana hotel room of Frank Austin Young, a convicted counter-revolutionary who had escaped prison.

Buchanan said he had interviewed Young in legitimate pursuit of news. Fidel Castro's regime charged the reporter with concealing information about the escape.

Dubois, once friendly to the Castro cause but later a critic of the regime, was besieged in a Havana telegraph office Oct. 27 by a mob demanding that he be executed against a wall. He escaped to

Henninger Is Guard's First 3-Star General

Guy N. Henninger, state director of Selective Service, Wednesday became the first officer in the history of the Nebraska National Guard to become a 3-star general.

Gen. Henninger, former state adjutant general, was elevated to the rank of lieutenant general, retired reserve, Nebraska Air National Guard, by the order of Gov. Ralph G. Brooks.

The commission was effected in a simple ceremony by Maj. Gen. Lyle A. Welch, present adjutant general.

Gov. Brooks' order cited Liet. Gen. Henninger for his outstanding leadership and guidance in bringing the Nebraska National Guard to its highest peak of combat readiness in history.

Retired In July

He retired as adjutant general in July. Because he is in retired status with the National Guard, the new rank carries no financial benefits.

Gen. Henninger, 64, was born on a farm near Shelton. He graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1918 and enlisted in the aviation section, Signal Reserve Corps, reporting for duty as a flying Cadet.

After the war he served as district court clerk in Buffalo County, was manager of a milling firm, and in 1930 was admitted to the Nebraska bar. He served as county attorney of Buffalo County, and was appointed adjutant general in 1939.

In 1940 he was made brigadier general and assigned as state director of Selective Service, a post which he still holds.

Tree Light Snatchers Still Hard At Work

Numerous reports of Christmas bulb thefts have been reported to Lincoln police during the holiday season.

The latest involved the theft of an estimated $30 worth of bulbs from the large evergreen tree in the yard of Rudy D. Amen of 1810 Kings Highway.

Amen told police someone stole 100 of the 185 lights that were on the tree.

He retired as adjutant general in July. Because he is in retired status with the National Guard, the new rank carries no financial benefits.

Gen. Henninger, 64, was born on a farm near Shelton. He graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1918 and enlisted in the aviation section, Signal Reserve Corps, reporting for duty as a flying Cadet.

After the war he served as district court clerk in Buffalo County, was manager of a milling firm, and in 1930 was admitted to the Nebraska bar. He served as county attorney of Buffalo County, and was appointed adjutant general in 1939.

In 1940 he was made brigadier general and assigned as state director of Selective Service, a post which he still holds.

Thone Sends Thank-You To Demo 'Santas'

State Republican Chairman Charles Thone expressed a wry thank-you to the state Democratic leaders Wednesday for what he termed "the many unexpected holiday gifts we have received," and commented that "many have been opened and aired before Christmas.

"What more could the Nebraska GOP elephant hope for in the New Year than an obviously divided, confused and chaotic opposition party?" he asked.

He cited the "attacks and exchanges from within the party by a group of Santa's helpers, Boyle, Hanson, Brooks, Schwartz, Morrison and Callan," top Democratic leaders.

"How could the GOP's stocking be any more full than when a well-respected, statesman-like Nebraskan like Roy Cochran disassociates himself from the Democratic bosses . . ." he added.

"To the people of the state, the Nebraska Republican party offers its cordial wishes for a joyous holiday season and a record unbesmirched by babbling, bossism and bickering," Thone concluded.

Vehicle Tax Papers Due In January

Don't expect to receive your 1960 motor vehicle tax statements in the mail until the first week in January.

This was the word Wednesday from Lancaster County Assessor Arthur Davis.

Davis said his office has only about 40,000 of the estimated 60,000 statements typed up and that he has 5 employees busy stuffing them into envelopes.

But he said the statements will not be mailed until sometime next week and county motor vehicle owners won't receive them until the week of Jan. 4-9.

Car and truck owners will have to bring or mail the statements to the office of County Treasurer C. E. Berg in order to obtain their 1960 license plates.

Ingo & Company Won't Sign Until NY Meeting

... CHAMP PLEASED WITH NEW PLANS

Goteborg, Sweden (P)—World heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson and his adviser said Wednesday they would sign no papers until they visit New York in January although they were pleased at the new promotional deal for the rematch with Floyd Patterson.

Edwin Ahlquist, Johansson's adviser, said there was no possibility of any agreement in writing during the weekend visit to Goteborg of Roy Cohn and some of his associates in the new 10-man syndicate that has taken over the rematch contract.

"Ingemar has, on my advice, decided that he will sign no papers until he and I have gone to New York in mid-January to see the athletic commission personally," said Ahlquist.

"We do not think anything is wrong but, after what we have been through, we must check and double-check everything to make sure all is okay. But we can always talk over here."

Ingo Pleased

Johansson said he was "naturally pleased" to hear that Cohn and his group had taken over Feature Sports, Inc., from "disqualified" Vincent Velella and Bill Rosenthal.

"I have so far only heard about this via the telephone," said the boxing champion. "I do not know the people involved but I guess they are okay. I think maybe they

Indiana Trims Irish By 71-60

Indianapolis (P)—Indiana finally got its fast break clicking in the second half and defeated Notre Dame's basketball team 71-60 Wednesday night in the final game of the 8th Hoosier Classic.

Butler beat Purdue at the free throw line in the opening game of the second night of holiday doubleheaders 73-69.

Indiana, which will skip Butler's holiday show next year, trailed Notre Dame 37-32 at the half and 39-32 early in the second period. Then the Hoosiers made the next 8 points and never trailed again.

Bits Of Explanation

Every year, it seems, when the NSAA releases the district basketball assignments as it did last week, there is some confusion.

In reading the state's newspapers, it is obvious that many think the chairman named last week is the tournament chairman and that his home school is the tourney site.

This isn't so. The chairman named is solely for the purpose of calling the schools of each district together in a meeting. At that meeting, the site, exact dates, and tourney chairman will be chosen.

Pershing Bids For Two

Lincoln as yet hasn't received any tourneys, but will obviously get the Class A tourney with the 3 public high schools and Nebraska City. This will be at Pershing Municipal Auditorium on March 2-4.

Dick Wagner is also hoping to receive the Class B tourney, including Uni High and Piux X, Ashland, Auburn, Crete, Plattsburgh, Syracuse and Tecumseh. The Pershing boss would like it for March 1-3, probably.

This would be a fine tourney for Lincoln, and chances are good that it will come here. The non-Lincoln schools should jump at the chance to play in the big auditorium.

One of the smaller Lincoln gyms might be a possibility for a small Class D tourney of neighboring schools.

How They're Split

There has also been some question in state papers as to how the schools are split by the NSAA when they have the same enrollment and are at the dividing line between classes.

There is no coin flipping. Nor any drawing from hats. It is scientific, logical and fair. The school with the highest 3-year boy enrollment average (this year and the preceding 2 years) goes into the higher class.

For instance, Lexington and Ogallala each have 204 boys on the rolls, and are split between Class A and B.

Lexington with enrollments of 216-219-204 the past 3 years, has an average of 213. Ogallala is 209-190-204, averaging 201.

Wymore and Madison split B and C. Madison, which went up, had 95-99-84 (92.7) to Wymore's 71-82-84 (79).

Eight schools have 41 boys, with two required to play in Class C. The two top are Emerson 39-51-41 (43.7) and Spalding Academy 43-45-41 (42.7). Lawrence, with 40-45-41 (42) just missed.

Others are Millard 33-36-41 (36.7), Falls City Sacred Heart 30-37-41 (36), Axtell 30-36-41 (35.7), Bruning 27-35-41 (34.3), and Sumner 24-33-41 (32.7).

Prepare For Growth

Generally, this system gives the smaller school an opportunity to prepare for growth. Madison, for instance, already has a basically Class B schedule. Wymore's is basically Class C, since that is what the Zephyrs have been playing.

The problem becomes more difficult when schools make fantastically rapid growth. It can be extremely troublesome for the school administrators to have their schedules keep pace, and there is usually a lag before the schedule catches up.

should have called me up before buying into the contract."

In New York, Bill Fugazy, a member of the new promoting group who will fly to Paris and Goteborg with Cohn, said Johansson would not be asked to sign anything.

Going To Talk

"We are just going over to talk," he said. "Humbert Fugazy (his uncle who will be the matchmaker and general manager) wants to discuss the general promotion with Johansson and Ahlquist.

Billy Has Clipping

In the boys' section, Billy, 12 went a little farther than the others with his preparations. He had a clipping telling about his player — Don Meredith of Southern Methodist—taped to the bedstead.

Minnesota Slips Past OU, 57-56

Norman, Okla. (P)—Bob Griggas dropped in a field goal with 21 seconds remaining to give the Minnesota Gophers a 57-56 basketball victory over the Oklahoma Sooners Wednesday night.

Griggas drove in for the field goal attempt but was halted by the Oklahoma defense and then connected on a jump shot from 8 feet out for the triumph.

It was Minnesota's second straight win over Oklahoma and left the Gophers with a 4-3 record. The loss balanced Oklahoma's account at 4-4.

Oklahoma trailed most of the second half but finally took the lead at 56-55 on a layup and free shot by Del Heidebrecht with 1:11 left. Oklahoma got one more chance but a shot by Denny Price was blocked.

Oklahoma trailed by 9 points with about 5 minutes left but a scoring surge by Heidebrecht, which netted 7 points, narrowed the margin.

Ron Johnson was Minnesota's chief point maker with 17, duplicating his performance in the previous game.

Heidebrecht and Price each had 10 for Oklahoma.

NFL Sets Fan Mark 8th Time

Philadelphia (P) — The National Football League set an attendance record for the 8th straight year despite unfavorable economic conditions in 3 league cities.

An Associated Press survey of the 12 team pro circuit disclosed Wednesday that 3,314,515 fans attended games this past season. This was a 156,617 increase over the 3,157,898 total attendance in 1958.

The new record exceeded the expectations of the late NFL commissioner, Bert Bell. Bell said prior to the season that he felt the league had reached its saturation point in attendance and would do well to equal last year's great crowds.

Seven teams showed crowd increases, while 3 experienced decreases. Two, the Chicago Bears and San Francisco 49ers, reported the same figures as a year ago.

Acting commissioner Austin H. Gunsel said the tremendous interest in pro football might best be expressed with an old English saying, "good show."

Gunsel said the figures would have been even higher in such cities as Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Detroit if it hadn't been for the steel strike.

Starkweather's Electric Chair Death Rates As State's Top '59 News Story

By The Associated Press
For the second straight year, the macabre story of Charles Starkweather dominated Nebraska news.

In 1958 the horrifying account of 11 slayings attributed to the Lincoln youth shocked the nation and rated as Nebraska's top news story.

In 1959 Starkweather's own death in the electric chair, preceded by desperate legal maneuvering which added a few weeks to the young killer's life, was the year's big story in the state where 10 of his 11 victims had been killed.

The ratings were made by Nebraska newsmen in the annual Associated Press poll.

Postponed 4 Times

The execution of Charles Starkweather was postponed 4 times. One reprieve, on May 22, was granted a bare 98 minutes before the youth was to be strapped in the electric chair.

On June 25 at 12:01 a.m., the 20-year-old red-haired killer walked into the basement execution chamber of the state penitentiary. Without a word he was strapped in the chair and at 12:05 he died.

Another major story was also a continuation of one which began the year before.

"Until they sat down to mull over their selections, newsmen may not have realized how much the homestate news was dominated by a single individual, Ralph G. Brooks.

The recount by the Legislature of the ballots in that election was a part of this year's No. 2 story, the record-breaking legislative session. Brooks was a central figure in hassling over the Interstate Highway, the No. 4 story. His inaugural rated No. 6 and a stroke suffered a few weeks after taking office was No. 7.

Rated No. 8 was the resignation of State Prison Warden Joseph Bovey under pressure

Top 10 Stories

By The Associated Press

These are the top 10 stories in Nebraska during 1959 in the order of their selection by newsmen throughout the state:

1. Mass killer Charles Starkweather goes to the electric chair after 11th hour stays.

2. Legislature's longest session which included recount of votes for governor, treasurer.

3. Nebraska beats Oklahoma in football.

4. Interstate Highway controversy.

5. Nebraska gets local airline service — and a hassle with the carrier.

6. Inaugural of state's first Democratic governor in two decades.

7. Gov. Ralph Brooks suffers stroke.

8. Penitentiary warden resigns under fire from governor.

9. State has record corn crop.

10. Pacifists pickets Mead missile site despite arrests.

from the governor.

The sports fans had a big day during the year — big enough to rate 3rd among the year's news stories.

It was the afternoon of Oct. 31 at Lincoln. The opponents in a Big Eight football game in Memorial Stadium: Perennial league champion Oklahoma and Nebraska, team that had slapped down Minnesota 32-12 but otherwise had an unimpressive record.

Snap Sooners Record

The Sooners, who had played 74 conference games without defeat, met an inspired, aggressive opponent capable of some great kicking and a rugged defense. Oklahoma suffered from fumbles, blocked kicks, penalties.

The outcome: Nebraska 25,

Oklahoma 21 and the end of a record unmatched in the history of college football.

The Interstate Highway, fourth-rated story, had something for almost everyone. In Omaha there was opposition to running a segment of the road through a section of the city where it would uproot homes and businesses.

In Lincoln there was a cry against diverting funds from the project to Omaha. In out-state Nebraska the argument continued whether the highway should be built north or south of the Platte River.

Airline Troubles

The No. 5 story also involved about everyone. The year brought Nebraska for the first time a network of local airline flights. But no sooner had they started than there were rumblings of dissatisfaction with the carrier, Frontier Airlines.

Things came to a head when Frontier announced it planned to cancel some flights on several routes and seek authority to abandon entirely service on the northern route.

Representatives of the airline and state met informally in Washington but in the end could not agree.

Frontier later agreed to continue two trips a day on its southern Nebraska route, one of which was among those it planned to cancel. But it reaffirmed its determination to seek discontinuance of the northern route.

The year's other big stories, in the order rated by newsmen:

Big Inaugural

No. 6: Gov. Brooks inaugurated — Having elected their first governor in two decades, the Democrats staged a whopping ball in Lincoln to mark the inaugural. Forty-five hundred persons attended. From that day on the governor, his office and the high-riding Democrats were seldom out of the spotlight.

No. 7: Brooks' stroke — On April 18 it was reported the new governor had been hospitalized with the flu after becoming ill at a Nebraska Press Assn. banquet. Five days later, however, his administrative assistant, Robert Conrad, disclosed Brooks had suffered a mild stroke.

No. 8: Warden quits — From Conrad also came the word that Brooks planned to ask the Board of Control to fire Warden Joseph Bovey. Though the board later told the Legislature there were insufficient grounds, the warden resigned and was replaced by Maurice Sigler, a former head of the Louisiana State Penitentiary.

No. 9: Corn crop — The Department of Agriculture measured the Nebraska corn crop at 350,096,000 bushels, 56 million bushels above the old record set in 1927.

No. 10: Pacifists — Start of construction on an Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile base at the Nebraska Ordnance Plant near Mead touched off civil disobedience demonstrations by a Pacifist group calling itself Omaha Action.

Derailed Freight Car Delays Rail Traffic 5 Hours

Minden (AP) — One car of a Burlington freight train was derailed about 5 miles west of Minden early Wednesday morning, halting traffic on the main line of the Burlington for about 5 hours.

Trainmen said the derailment was caused by a burned out wheel bearing. It tore up about 150 feet of track. Special equipment was brought

State Pig Crop Up 9% This Year

Nebraska farmers produced 4,335,000 pigs this year, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics estimated Wednesday.

That's 9% more than the 3,991,000 pigs saved in 1958.

An increase in sows farrowed accounted for the boost. Average litter size was slightly smaller than last year.

The year's pig crop tops the 10-year (1948-57) average by 8% and represents the largest total since 1955 when 4,591,000 pigs were saved.

Pope: True Peace Must Respect Man's Dignity

Vatican City (P)—Pope John XXIII declared Wednesday that "only men of good will" can lead the world to a true peace that respects the dignity of man.

In his Christmas message broadcast to the world, the Pope said that "the road to Bethlehem truly marks the right approach to that peace which is on the lips, in the eager desires, in the hearts of all."

But, said the 78-year-old supreme ruler of the Roman Catholic Church, such a peace has not yet been achieved.

"There is not a state of war, but neither is there peace," he said. "In the world of today, how many roads of peace have been proposed and imposed?"

The pontiff's words appeared in part to echo those of President Eisenhower during his 23,000-mile 3-continent tour. The President, whose mission was blessed by the pope in an audience, called for "peace and friendship in freedom."

In an obvious reference to the President's trip and to others working for peace, the pope said:

"We pay homage to the good will of the many guides and proclaimers of peace in the world: Statesmen, experienced diplomats, influential writers."

In an obvious criticism of the communist way of life, although he did not mention Communism by name, the pope said that social peace "is solidly based on the mutual and reciprocal respect for the personal dignity of man."

The pontiff's message, his second Christmas address since his election little more than a year ago, was devoted almost entirely to the problem of peace.

Stocks Down; Trade Light

New York (AP) — The Yuletide distraction appeared too much for the stock market Wednesday as it declined moderately on the lightest trading since last Nov. 11, Veterans Day.

Volume sank to 2,890,000 shares from 2,930,000 Tuesday and was the smallest since the 2,820,000 of Nov. 11.

Some traders were reported clearing the decks in preparation for an early start on Christmas weekend. Pivotal issues declined 10 cents or more from fractions to about 2 while a minority made moderate gains.

The Dow Jones industrial average dropped 1.64 to 670.18.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 30 cents to 227.70 with the industrials down 80 cents, the rails up 10 cents and utilities off 10 cents.

Of 1,000 issues traded, 660 declined and 428 advanced, 100 for the year totaled 20 and new lows 41.

American Stock Exchange prices were irregular as volume rose to 1,520,000 shares.

Government bonds bounded up fractions from historic lows last Tuesday.

Trading declined to $6,170,000 per value on the New York Stock Exchange from $6,090,000 Tuesday.

Grains Rack Up Substantial Gains

Chicago (AP) — The grain futures market suddenly burst out of a narrow trading range in early afternoon Wednesday and racked up substantial gains on nearly all contracts.

Soybeans led the gains with the March delivery up two cents a bushel but all the grains were ahead by a cent or more and finished at or near their highs for the day.

The support was credited to a variety of factors. It appeared, however, to have been linked with a report that Iran had ordered a cease fire in its war in connection with claims of a border violation by Iraq. Some Iranian troops were understood to be on the move.

In addition, wheat was up by Pakistan, Turkey and Spain overnight amounting to more than three million bushels, the largest volume of export business in months.

Wheat closed 15-1/2 cents a bushel higher, March $2.02; corn 3-1/2 cent higher, March 73-1/2; rye 1-1/2 cents higher, March $1.29; beans 4-2 cents higher, January $2.12.

Holy Land Cashing In On Heavy Yule Traffic

Bethlehem, Jordan (AP) — The hotels and boarding houses of Bethlehem were turning away customers Wednesday night with words equivalent to the ages-old "no room in the inn."

Hotels in the Jordan section of Jerusalem were similarly packed.

The tinkle of camel bells is still heard on roads winding through the Judean hills but for thousands of foreign tourists and pilgrims converging on the little town of Bethlehem the air age definitely has come to the Holy Land.

Above the regular flight traffic at Jerusalem Airport 9 chartered planes loaded with tourists arrived Tuesday and 10 Wednesday. At least as many will be arriving daily for the next 10 days as Jerusalem and Bethlehem enjoy the busiest Christmas tourist season in many years.

Hruska Says Nixon Will Be Ike Successor

Sen. Roman Hruska said Wednesday that Vice President Richard Nixon would be the next president.

At a breakfast session with about 150 persons he said the Hawaiian election was a "turning point for the Republican Party."

The Nebraska Republican said that the Democrats held the majority in Congress and neglected to pass suitable farm legislation.

Turning to discussion of his recent tour of Central America during which he viewed progress on the transcontinental highway, Hruska said he noticed a strong hard-core Communist influence in the 7 countries.

He added that this was evident despite the fact that the party is outlawed in each of the countries.

Lincoln Taverns Get New Year's Time Extension

City taverns may remain open until 1 a.m. on New Year's Eve for both on-sale and off-sale.

County hours were set at 12:30 a.m. for on-sale and 1 a.m. for off-sale.

These hours, the same as in effect last year, were set in separate actions by the two governing bodies.

Package liquor stores must close at the regular time of 12 midnight.

Student Pleads Guilty To Using Lewd Language

A 21-year-old University of Nebraska student changed an earlier innocent plea to a charge of using foul and obscene language to guilty Wednesday in Municipal Court.

Judge John Jacobson fined Richard L. Hodge of 715 No. 16th $50.

Hodge was arrested Dec. 11 after police had traced a call received by a woman employee of a downtown business firm back to Hodge's fraternity house. Hodge reportedly made obscene suggestions to the woman during a lengthy phone conversation.

He added that this was evident despite the fact that the party is outlawed in each of the countries.

Merriman Cattle Firm Files To Incorporate

Articles of incorporation were filed with the Nebraska secretary of state's office Wednesday for the Sears Cattle Co., Merriman.

Incorporators are Redmond W. Sears and Myrtle B. Sears, both of Merriman. The firm is authorized to issue $150,000 in capital stock.

Med License Of Omahan Revoked

Dr. E. A. Rogers, state health director, reported Wednesday he has revoked the medical license of Harry G. Williams of Omaha, for the unlawful sale of drugs.

The revocation came after a hearing Dec. 15 during which Williams' attorney, Robert D. Zimmerman, requested seven days before judgment in which to present evidence in Williams' behalf.

Dr. Rogers said none were sent to his office. The order revoking the license to practice medicine and surgery in Nebraska was written Tuesday.

Williams had been found guilty in the federal district court in Omaha Oct. 29 of selling methamphetamine tablets, also known as "bennies," to U.S. Food and Drug inspectors on five different occasions. He was fined $1,000, and given a one-year prison sentence. The court suspended the prison term and placed him on three years probation.

The typical independent grocer in the U.S. spends 80% of his advertising budget in newspapers.
